Assessment of Portfolio submitted by Professor Rebecca Elinich

Reviewer: Carl Francolino, Professor of Computer & Information Technology

The portfolio submitted by Professor Rebecca Elinich for the 2017/2018 academic year is well prepared and presented, and meets the requirements and intent of the Collective Bargaining Agreement. The portfolio sections are focused, comprehensive, and well written – hallmarks of the time and care devoted to each.

Professor Elinich's Academic Resume is impressive, and highlights her quality education, solid teaching experience, and enviable expertise. Despite a crushing course load, she participates in student-centric service activities, sits on several college committees, and serves on advisory boards.

The Course Outline included in the portfolio is attractively formatted, cleanly organized, and articulate. The Evaluation Plan and its related policies are easy to understand, and the Classroom Policies set high standards for student conduct and behavior. The Course Plan is remarkably detailed and clearly identifies each week's topics, learning activities, evaluations and assignments, and reflects the considerable planning required to produce a quality course.

The Sample Assignments included in the portfolio are excellent. Each assignment provides students with a concise overview, a clear due date, and an easy-to-understand rubric that helps students focus their efforts.

The Student Survey Results are excellent. Professor Elinich taught seven section of six different courses - a heavy course load for any instructor – to ensure the availability of courses needed by students. Despite the workload, the survey results indicate that quality of classroom instruction remained high.

Congratulation to Professor Elinich for a successful first semester and for an engaging portfolio.
